

20m High-Speed HDMI Cable

With integrated Ethernet

Labgear's 20m High-Speed HDMI Cable ensures a premium connection for longer distances. Perfect for complex setups requiring extended reach, this cable supports 1080p, 3D, and HD TV, with high-quality materials to minimise interference and maximise performance.

Features

- 20m length supports 1080p, 3D, and HD TV, providing versatility for different setups.
- Twin ferrite RFI/EMI filters minimise radio frequency and electromagnetic interference.
- Oxygen-free copper conductors ensure optimum signal conductivity and clarity.
- 24k gold plated connectors resist corrosion and ensure a stable connection.
- Integrated Ethernet channel allows network connectivity through the HDMI link.
- Audio return channel (ARC) supports direct audio transmission from the TV to the sound system.
- Triple shielding offers robust interference minimisation, preserving signal quality over extended distances.
